Mrs. W. L. Howard, who sailed on the S. S. Mongolia, was given a rousing farewell at the wharf by Eastern Star, social and amateur theatrical friends. Mrs. Howard goes East to attend the Convention of the General Grand Chapter No. 3 of this city, in which she is now serving a second term as Worthy Matron. Mrs. Howard is a genius at organization, a most capable presiding officer and an effective and agreeable factor in her several spheres of activity. She will be on the mainland three months. In the absence of Mrs. Howard the senior officer of Lele Aloha Chapter will be Mrs. Belle Heilbron.

Of Miss Marie Hall, the famous young violinist who is to appear shortly in Honolulu, the musical critic of the London Times writes: "Miss Marie Hall showed that she has the magic which attracts and holds large audiences. Her recital drew a crowd which at the end of a generous program occupying two hours and a half, still clamored for more. Nothing could be more satisfactory, because the art which swayed the crowd was of the highest order. As usual, Miss Hall touched on the poles of her instrument's possibilities with magnificent confidence and magnificent powers.

"It is a natural outcome of her high artistic type that the young violinist is a wonderful artist and one of the few whom one reckons really dexterous enough to make Paganini pleasurable to the listener.

"Her playing of Bach's 'Concerto in E' and of Corelli's 'La Folia' was as admirable as a blameless technique, unalloyed purity of tone, fine taste and sympathy could make it. This would go far, but there was besides the crowning touch of genius which comported with the rarefied atmosphere, the idealistic spirit which sets the old masters in a world by themselves."

Dr. and Mrs. Wayson, who have been spending the past month at Waikiki, occupying the Cleghorn cottage, will return to town next week.

Rooms for Secretary Straus and party have been engaged at the Moana. A letter received by the management from T. L. Weed, the private secretary of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, states that the party will include four persons in addition to Mr. Straus.

Miss Power entertained a number of her friends at dinner at the Moana on Friday night.

Mrs. William Heilbron entertained Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cohen at dinner on Monday night, the affair partaking of a farewell to the Cohens, who sailed the following day on the Alameda. Other guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, L. Kellogg, Miss Hazel Heilbron and Miss Eva McLain.

Mrs. Jerome Arendt of Waipahu entertained the members of a sewing and literary club, of which she is a member, on Tuesday night, the affair taking the nature of a progressive party. Prizes were distributed among the skilful players, Mrs. Soule, Mrs. Peter Lucas and Mrs. McLain being the lucky ones. Among the guests were Mrs. Joe Cohen, Mrs. Arthur Soule, Mrs. McLain, Mrs. Jules Long, Miss Rosina Green, Mrs. Scoville, Mrs. P. Lucas and Miss Lucille Lucas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dole are now occupying their new Wylie street residence, having moved into the new quarters during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Levy have taken the Osborne cottage at Waikiki for the coming month.

Attorney E. N. Watson and family are at Haleiwa.

Admiral Stevens, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Stevens, who arrived yesterday on the Moana, are guests at the Moana. The Admiral and Mrs. Stevens will spend some time in Honolulu. It is now two years since the Admiral was retired, after having served with distinction through the Spanish-American War.

Chester Irwin, of Honolulu plantation, gave a stag dinner at the Seaside on Sunday evening that was a very jolly affair. His guests were Thomas Nasse, Mr. Budde, Geo. Ashley and Geo. Filler, as well as several others.

Mr. and Mrs. Vida Thrum gave a swimming party at the Seaside on Thursday followed by a supper served under the hau tree. Their guests numbering about forty, afterwards enjoyed the dance.

The regular Thursday night dance at the Seaside was made even more attractive than usual because of the beautiful full moon, and was much enjoyed by a number of college men representing Yale, Harvard and Princeton who gathered under one of the hau trees and gave their college yells—in other words the dance was a howling success in several senses of the word.

Frank Atherton and family will be at Haleiwa for a month.

Harry Macfarlane will return from Kauai, where he has been visiting the Geo. H. Fairchilds, on Sunday. His many friends will be glad to welcome him back.

Agent Meyer of the Standard Oil Co. has a party of seven at the Haleiwa Hotel.

Fred Church is planning a masquerade ball at the Seaside about the first of September and will give ample notice so that costumes may be prepared. One could not imagine a more attractive place for a bal masque than the beautiful Seaside, where confetti and other booths could be scattered around the lawns. Society will look forward to what will surely be the social event of the year.

James L. Cocoran, Princeton '96, a classmate of John Waterhouse and brother of "Garry" Cocoran the famous football player, who has been a missionary in China and was returning on the Mongolia, gave a dinner at the Seaside on Wednesday, fourteen covers being laid. His guests were fellow passengers on the ship.

The early part of August will be very merry at the Seaside, with three transients, the Warren, Thomas and Logan, due, together with the cruiser squadron. It will be like old times when Fred Church had the Royal Hawaiian and military or naval hops ran for six nights running.

Miss O'Brien gave a swimming party, followed by a dance, to about forty of her young friends at the Seaside on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Gardener Wilder gave a pretty dinner at the Seaside on Thursday evening, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Lieut. and Mrs. Cushman and Miss Barnes.

Mrs. and Miss Dunbar, the mother and sister of Stewart Dunbar, will reach here on the Siberia on the 31st, and will take a cottage at the Seaside for a month or so. The Dunbars will be a decided acquisition to the social set.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Mendel and Miss Mendel will arrive on the Siberia and have engaged a cottage at the Seaside. The Mendels, who are most charming people, are friends of Frank Winter, and will remain in Honolulu for several months.

Mrs. Robert Halstead and Mrs. Lackland are guests at Haleiwa for the summer.

A poi supper, in honor of the Misses Slack, the two daughters of Judge Slack, was given on Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Galt. The guests of honor, two charming girls who have been visiting a short time in Honolulu, enjoyed the affair immensely, it being something altogether novel to them. They sailed for their home on the mainland on the following day, taking the liner Mongolia. There were guests at the luncheon, in addition to the guests of honor, Miss Linda Schaefer, Miss Nora Swanzy, Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Edna Gunn, Percival Galt, A. Mackintosh, George Brown, Gustav Schaefer and Messrs. Southlick and Weller, the latter two college friends of Percival Galt, who accompanied him to Honolulu.

On the same evening a poi luncheon was given to a number of the members of the younger set, who are having very much their own way during the vacation season, by Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey. The guests at this supper included Misses Dagmar Sorenson, Beatrice Castle, Alice Cooke, Violet Damon, Elsa Schaefer, Messrs. Dement Kennedy, Alfred Carter, Richard Cooke and the two Lowrey boys and George Fuller.

Sunday saw the usual crowd at the Seaside, enjoying the bathing and the music, while in the evening a heavy shower filled the large lanai with diners, there being so many extra seats at table taken without previous engagement that the capacity of the Seaside for providing was taxed to the utmost.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pilling and Miss Maria K. Spensley of Tucson, Arizona, have taken apartments at the Seaside, where they will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack London returned from Maui on Thursday, going directly to their cottage at the Seaside. The Londons are more than enthusiastic over Maui scenery and hospitality, and especially over the great crater of Haleakala.

Lieut. John S. McCleery gave a dinner at the Seaside on Sunday, his guests being Dr. and Mrs. McCallum, Miss Johnson, Miss Harvey and Lieut. Shipp.

Mrs. L. A. Thurston is home again from a ten day trip on Maui.

British Consul Forster and family will be at Haleiwa for the next ten days.

Mr. D. E. Metzger, superintendent of the Hilo Railroad, came down on the Kinau for a week. He is a guest at the University Club.

On Tuesday the University Club had a dinner and music in honor of the birthday of the chairman of the House Committee. A special menu was provided and Guy Livingston, J. H. Howland, Carlos Caceres and one or two other musical men, with Frank Thompson for toastmaster, took a leading part in the fun-making. Among the special guests were Dr. McGrew, Mr. Vivian of Butte, Mr. Brownell of New York and Mr. Alexander of Yokohama. About thirty were present. Several speeches were made and the party had not entirely dispersed by midnight. The dinner contained many of the culinary novelties for which the club's cuisine is famous, including a cream of rye soup, and there was an excellent fruit punch.

There will be a "smoker" at the University Club Tuesday evening.

Miss Agnes J. Smith, who has been spending a year in the East, will leave New York on August 18, for her return trip.

Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle has postponed her projected European tour owing to the precarious condition of her mother's health, and will return here early in September, with her parents and sister.

Miss Beatrice Castle who has just returned from a two years' absence, mostly spent in Boston, gave on Friday evening, at Palmhyrst, the family residence in town, a Rose dinner to Misses Helene Irwin, Alice Cooke, Elsa and Linda Schaefer, and Margaret Hyde-Smith and Harold and Alfred Castle, besides the very pleasant trio of Yale students who are visiting Honolulu this summer, Galt, Southlick and Weller. Mr. W. R. Castle presided.

Thursday evening Mrs. Clarence Cooke gave a poi supper in honor of Miss Alice Cooke who has recently returned from two years at Briarcliff. There were present the Misses Dagmar Sorenson, Juliette and Alice Cooke, Bessie Hopper, Elvora Sturgeon, Linda Schaefer and Beatrice Castle, besides Messrs. Frederick and Sherwood Lowrey, Richard Cooke, Fred Damon, Alexander Walker, Alfred Castle and George Fuller. As if a delicious supper were not enough, the guests were surprised to find a tally-ho waiting for them, in which all embarked and drove to "Luakaha," Mr. C. M. Cooke's beautiful Nuuanu country home where further entertainment kept the party till a late hour.
